Introduction:

- Design and content of all event promotional materials with the names of Chancellor Block, Mrs. Block, and/or Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost Waugh must be approved in advance via the Chancellor’s Event Promotional Materials Approval Process.
- Event promotional materials include, but are not limited to:
  - Invitations (printed and electronic/email)
  - Save-the-dates
  - Websites
  - Advertisements
  - Programs
  - Citations, and commemorative plaques/awards

Approval Process:

- The Office of Special Events & Protocol facilitates the Chancellor’s Event Promotional Materials Approval Process. Send materials for approval to Lisa Steckler, Special Events & Protocol, x43226, lssteckler@support.ucla.edu.
- Allow seven (7) business days for the approval process.
- Materials cannot go to print or be distributed until approval has been received.
- Special Events & Protocol reviews event materials, forwards them to the Chancellor’s Office for their review, and will provide you with feedback and/or approval.
  - Submit printed materials as a PDF or JPG.
  - Submit electronic materials exactly as guests will receive them (no PDF or mock-ups).
  - Submit only final versions for approval with full and complete content.
  - The Chancellor’s Office presumes materials have been reviewed and approved by your department, as well as other people whose names appear in the materials, prior to submission to Special Events & Protocol.

Written Statements:

- To obtain, or to get approval of written statements from the Chancellor, Mrs. Block and/or Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost Waugh:
  - Contact Taleen Ananian, Executive Communications, tananian@support.ucla.edu, for messages to be distributed campus-wide or to a large audience (such as event messages and BruinPosts).
  - Contact Rhonda Wade, External Affairs, rwade@support.ucla.edu, for correspondence to individuals or small groups.
- If a written statement will appear in a promotion material, such as an event program, that material still requires subsequent approval through the Chancellor’s Event Promotional Materials Approval Process.

Protocol for Event Promotional Materials

For questions, please contact Lisa Steckler, Special Events & Protocol, lssteckler@support.ucla.edu.

Invitations:
- There is one standard invitation design for all events at the Chancellor’s Residence. Invitations to the Chancellor’s Residence must use this design. There are two variations of the standard invitation: one for print invitations, and one for email invitations.
- The Chancellor’s Residence invitation guidelines should be used as a protocol guide for invitations to events at other locations.
- In keeping with UCLA’s commitment to sustainable resource management, invitations should primarily be sent via email. For events with a more formal tone, paper invitations should be printed using soy or vegetable-based inks, and recycled or FSC-certified papers.

Printed programs:
- Generally, the Chancellor is the first person in the order of program. Exceptions will be made if there is a formal master of ceremonies.
  - Note: The Chancellor does not need a lengthy introduction. The Chancellor will either self-introduce, or a brief voiceover saying, “Ladies and gentlemen, Chancellor Gene Block” may be made.

Websites:
- Submit complete websites for approval, not only pages including the Chancellor, Mrs. Block and/or Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost. The entire website will be reviewed for design, content and grammar.

Design:
- The UCLA logo, UCLA seal or the acronym UCLA should be prominent on event materials.
- Consult the UCLA Graphic Identity Program for Pantone colors, university logos and brand guidelines, http://brand.ucla.edu.

Grammar & Punctuation:
- The UCLA Dictionary of Style, created by UCLA Communications, ensures clear and consistent communication about UCLA: http://brand.ucla.edu/brand/overview/copy-tone/style-guide/
- Spell out all words (do not abbreviate).
- Do not use periods to close sentences unless the copy is written in paragraph format.
- On invitations, when noting time always use a colon and include minutes. Always lowercase and use periods for a.m. and p.m.
- Do not include the Chancellor’s middle initial on event materials. In some instances it will be considered if other participants also have their middle initials included.

Photographs & Biographies:
- Photographs and biographies of the Chancellor, Mrs. Block and Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost must be obtained and approved prior to the Chancellor’s Event Promotional Materials Approval Process. Contact Taleen Ananian, Executive Communications, tananian@support.ucla.edu, with your request.

Chancellor’s Residence Invitations - Standard Components

1. Hosts:
   - Events at the Chancellor’s Residence are hosted solely by Chancellor and/or Mrs. Block (exceptions for co-hosts are limited to UC Regents and the UC President).
   - Chancellor and/or Mrs. Block may co-host events at locations other than the Chancellor’s Residence. In these instances their names are listed first, followed by the co-hosts.
   - Host names are equal in size, or larger than other text on the invitation. If there is an honoree mentioned in the invitational language (see “Invitational” below) their name can be the same size as the host names.
   - Proper way to note hosts:
     o Chancellor Gene Block
     o Mrs. Carol Block
     o Chancellor Gene Block and Mrs. Carol Block

2. Invitational:
   - Phrasing that invites guests to the event clearly explains the purpose/honoree. Preferred phrasing for events at the Residence begins with “cordially invite you to...”
   - Complete the invitational by describing the type of event and its purpose/honoree. Be as concise as possible, approximately 2-3 lines.
     o Examples:
       - cordially invite you to a reception honoring the 40th anniversary of the Ethnic Studies Centers
       - cordially invite you to a dinner honoring Professor G.J. van der Zwaan, Rector Magnificus of Utrecht University

3. Date & Time:
   - Include the day of the week, the month, day, and year. Do not abbreviate. For example:
     o Monday, November 5, 2012
   - For most events at the Chancellor’s Residence, only list the event start time on the invitation. For events functions with guests continuously arriving/departing, such as a reception, invitations may include the start and end times, separated with the word “to.”
   - Always use a colon and include minutes. Always lowercase and use periods for a.m. and p.m.

4. Location:
   - Do not abbreviate, and do not include the zip code:
     UCLA Chancellor’s Residence
     10570 Sunset Boulevard
     Los Angeles, California

5. Reply Instructions:
   - Standardized format is as follows to request responses (RSVPs) on an invitation (all components must be included):
     Respond by (day), (month) (date), (year), to (name of person taking RSVPs)
     (email address)
     (phone number)
• If there is a reply card enclosed, use this alternate format (all components must be included):

6. Dietary:
• Invitations to served meal events must include the following text (receptions and buffets are not served meals):

If there is a building or garage, it is a structure (i.e. Parking Structure 5). If there is an open area for parking, it is a lot (i.e. Parking Lot 36). Note parking fees or indicate if parking is complimentary. For example:
  o Parking is available for $12 in Parking Structure 5
  o Complimentary parking available in Parking Lot A

  This event has been made possible by the generous support of (NAME/ORGANIZATION)
